

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

GLOW-WORM.—As a couple of handsome young gentlemen were taking a promenade Tuesday night, their attention was attracted by an illuminated worm crawling in the road. The worm is about an inch in length, and has ten luminous round spots, about the size of a small bead, along its back, and one, about double the size of the others, on the head—a sort of a headlight as it were. The base of the light thrown out by these spots were of a brilliant greenish tint, while the center of each luminous spot was a bright yellow color. In the dark, when the worm would crawl, it resembled a train of cars in the night, at a distance, winding its way around curves in the road. Although the worm is called a "glow-worm," it is not one, though it may be of a similar species to that insect. The boys tell that they have seen a number of the worms from time to time at night. They say they stay under the rocks, or along the side of rocks. Dr. G. R. Alexander intends sending this worm to Prof. C. V. Riley, the Government Entomologist, at Washington, and learn what he can about this new luminous worm.

PANGUITCH LAKE.—A. S. Thompson, who returned from a trip to Panguitich Lake, Utah, on Tuesday, reports a plentiful supply of game there. The deer are abundant and the hunters have no trouble in securing all they want. The fishing is good. All a person has to do is to drop the hook in the water and draw it out with a trout on the end of it. Five bears recently passed through the Co-Op herd of sheep now grazing near the lake, during the night, killing forty-five of them. There are quite a number of people at the lake, many of them living in cabins of their own, while others are camping out. Board at the lake is only $6 per week. Chickens are selling at two bits apiece and butter two bits a pound. A fellow can live like a fighting-cock there for little or nothing. Silver Reef was well represented at the lake.

NEW ORE.—They have encountered copper ore on the sixth level of the Day mine. In working around the ore chamber lately struck, the copper ore was found. It is on the east side of the ore chamber. The foot of this copper ledge is three feet in width. From a selected sample of the ore, a test made by Supt. Grim, this ore showed 70 per cent. copper. A person, on looking at the sample, would take it to be mostly lime, yet the test proved otherwise. The whole ledge will go from 35 to 45 per cent. copper, and about $40 in silver. As soon as prospecting the ore chamber is completed, the copper ledge will be prospected. It is located along the side of the fissure, and the surrounding country leads one to believe that it widens as it goes down.

STOCK DIVIDEND.—The following is taken from an old Stock Exchange: "At a meeting of the Directors of the Mayflower Silver Mining Company, held July 21, 1883, a stock dividend of 143 shares for every 100 shares of the capital stock outstanding, was declared payable on and after Wednesday, August 1, 1883, at the office of the Secretary, No. 240 Montgomery street, San Francisco, California." It is natural to suppose from the notice that certain parties are endeavoring to get control of all the stock that they possibly can. The sooner the Mayflower business is settled the better it will be for the public at large.

FOR THE EAST.—Mrs. W. L. McKee, widow of ex-Sheriff McKee, intends going to Holly Springs, Mississippi, where she will reside hereafter with the relations of her late husband. She, in company with Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Scott, of Bristol, will leave early the coming week for Ward, Oacola and Snake Valley, for the purpose of visiting relations and friends. Mrs. McKee will then proceed to Salt Lake City, where she will remain a short time, and thence to Holly Springs. We wish her a pleasant journey.

INJUNCTION GRANTED.—A perpetual injunction, restraining the settlers of Spring Valley from diverting the water from the creek that runs through the valley has been granted. The injunction was granted at the instance of the settlers of Eagle Valley. The Lord stood in with the Eagle Valley Stake right nobly, while those of the Spring Valley Stake felt that it was the work of His Satanic Majesty instead of the good Lord.

NOTICE.—Notice is hereby given that I have become assignee of B. F. Grant & Co. by an assignment for benefit of creditors. All accounts due to B. F. Grant & Co. must be paid to the undersigned at Milford.

W. G. TAYLOR, Assignee.
Milford, Utah, August 15, 1883.

The preliminary examination at Hamilton of the alleged assassins of R. C. O'Neil, Sr., was concluded last Saturday afternoon and the defendants held to appear before the Grand Jury of the November term of the District Court in bail of $5,000 each.

D. C. CLARK left on Thursday morning for Salt Lake, where he will meet Judge Rives, G. W. Baker, and others from Eureka, and all will then go up to Idaho on a great hunt.

The weather has been quite warm most of the week during the day, but the nights have been cool.

BULLIONVILLE AND PANACA BOTS

The furnace is still a bucking, and refuses to take its feed regularly.

The Smelting Company received eight tons of Dry Valley concentrates during the week.

We learn that Angus McDougal and family are temporarily sojourning in San Bernardino county, California.

A watermelon picnic, and a general round-up of the clans, will take place down the Wash some time next month.

Charles says that slogging at the furnace, with the mercury up in the nineties, is making him old and bald-headed.

Nick Miller is rustivating down the valley, where, it is said, he intends starting a distillery for the benefit of the Washtites.

Brother Gentry has sent to the Y. M. C. M. I. A., of Beaver, for some Mormon bibles, and other Latter-day literature, for those of the Bullionvillians who are not entirely beyond the pale of reformation.

Bishop Woods, of Clover Valley, having become so expert at tying the matrimonial knot, without the aid of license papers, some of our young people are considering the advisability of heading that way.

One of our school trustees is clamoring for the connubial felicity of the polygamous state, and avows his intention of setting the State laws at defiance by the addition to his household of two young English girls from St. George.

A couple of Bullionville "soft 'uns" nightly serenade their dulcianas on the veranda of the Valley House, during which they fling them "motto candy," bearing the words, "Come to my arms, dear," "Is the old man asleep yet," etc.

A few nights since, as the last rays of luna were disappearing behind the hills skirting our village, a young couple of tender years were heard singing, on the road to Bullionville, the well known lines of that Bacchanalian song, "We won't go home till morning," etc. What next, children?

A Bullionville young sport, while relating his experiences Sunday evening, as a picnicker down the Wash, said that "every corn stalk and grape vine contained a 'rattler,' and that during the still hours of night he could hear them lashing their tails around the wagon wheels in an attempt to get to where he was sleeping." There is nothing strange in the above, for we have heard of 'em trying to climb a red-hot stove, to get at some people where a young man came from.

For premeditated, willful and malicious lying, the newsmongers of this section are unequalled, and it is a safe bet to copper, that they are never happy, unless when engaged in that delectable pastime of plucking each other's reputations. While your former scribe was writing "Dots" for the Record, there was none that had the hardihood to tackle him in debate; but now, that they find a lone girl filling that capacity, they are all anxious to overwhelm her with their epistolary erudition. Manly, ain't it?

The newsmongers have been busy during the week, canvassing the approaching marriage of a young couple of our village. Some said that the Panaca Judge—who is a conscientious old gentleman—refused to marry the couple, because the paterfamilias of the bride refused to sanction the nuptials, while others had it that the Bullionville rakish emblem of the law would have willingly performed the ceremony, but that Mr. Short, the Smelting Company's foreman, would not grant him a leave of absence long enough to do so.

It seems to us that the Bullionville Justice ought to be able to detect who the parties are in his precinct that are selling whisky to the Indians. A disgraceful row occurred in that village Sunday evening, in consequence of this wholesale disposal of the fiery fluid, the bucks pulling their squaws hair out by the handful, while the latter retaliated on their lords and masters by pelting them with rocks. During the fracas Archy Yocham knocked an aggressive Indian senseless with a boulder.

We learn from the mail-rider that another unfortunate German perished of thirst a few weeks since on the fifty-mile desert that commences at the crossing of the Colorado river at Bonelli's Ferry, and terminates at Mountain Springs, in Arizona. When found, the poor fellow was within three miles of the Springs, but not knowing the fact, we suppose he lost heart, and laid down and died—as several of his countrymen have done before him, on the same stretch of road. It seems strange that fully three-fourths of all those who have perished from thirst on our deserts, are Germans. The great California Sahara in San Bernardino county, the Death Valley section, and the many parched tracts in Arizona and this State are dotted with the graves of this nationality.

The prospects of the Kingsfisher claim in Jackrabbit District continue bright as ever. The ore continues down as sinking progresses. The ground is loose and open, greatly facilitating sinking.

With the exception of the fruit the ranchers have all raised good crops; but still they are unhappy, for there is no market now in this vicinity where they can sell their produce.

PERISHED ON THE DESERT.

ST. JOSEPH, Nev., Aug. 21, 1883.

ED. RECORD: Notwithstanding the many frightful cases of men famishing on deserts for want of water, it is strange that people will persist in attempting to cross them without an adequate supply of water, and this, too, in the very warmest season of the year, when the heat is almost stifling. Two more men have lost their lives on that Golconda, the desert between the Colorado River and Mineral Park, Arizona. The following are the circumstances: On the 6th inst. Frank Kupin, or Cupin, Henry Hodley, and two other men (names unknown), left the Rioville Ferry on the Colorado for Mineral Park. They were evidently miners, and came down the Virgin River from Utah. They each had a gallon of water. On reaching the head of the wash, eighteen miles from the river, they sat down to rest; but Kupin and Hodley being anxious to go on, started ahead.

Taking a wrong direction, they soon got lost. The other two men thinking their comrades were ahead, proceeded slowly and cautiously on their journey, and reached Mountain Springs safely. Finding that the other men had not arrived they reported the case and proceeded on to Mineral Park. On their way they met mail-rider Kelsey, to whom they related the facts. On his arrival at the springs Mr. Kelsey sent his mail forward by young Bonelli, and started out in quest of the missing men. He found Kupin fourteen miles this side of the springs, unconscious and in a dying condition. After supplying him with water and food Kupin recovered sufficiently to relate his story, which was to the effect that he and Hodley, after getting lost, had managed to get back to the river, and replenishing their canteens, had taken a fresh start, but that their water soon gave out and that Hodley was helpless when he last saw him. Mr. Kelsey assisted Kupin to reach Mountain Springs where—notwithstanding the kindest attention of the proprietor, Mr. Cantro—he died in 36 hours after arrival.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to find Hodley, of whom nothing had been heard. Charley Byers, however, who was on his way to Mountain Springs with a team, discovered Hodley's remains about eighteen or twenty miles this side of the springs. It was so badly swollen that it could not be removed. It was afterwards buried at the spot where it was found.

The survivors say that Kupin had $400 on deposit in the Bank of California and $300 in the bank at Ogden. If this be so, he must have had the certificates of deposit in his boots, as he would not permit their removal after he had reached the springs.

J. R. MCGARRIGLE.
N. B.—It is probable these men came from either Silver Reef or San Francisco District, Utah.

MATT. CANAVAN says that since quicksilver has fallen from $1.50 a pound to 40 cents it made quite a difference in milling low grade ore, and with other things economized on a little he expected to see 2,000 men kept at work on the Comstock for years to come in the upper portion of the Comstock ledge.

T. E. FLAGG has put in a protest against the Pay-Day Company obtaining patent to their ground. He claims that the survey has taken in a portion of the F. G. and H. claim.

Mrs. WILLET has gone out to Comet District to reside. She is the first lady who has gone to that district to reside. She will dwell in a castle built of canvas.

DR. G. R. ALEXANDER, our local bugologist, is now, of evenings, giving his attention to the capture of the new species of glow-worm.

It is a great disappointment to all persons throughout this section that the starting up of the Day furnace has been postponed.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—A sale notice of the property belonging to the Lincoln S. M. Company at El Dorado Canyon appears to-day.

ON Tuesday the Sheriff will sell a lot of personal property at Bullionville, consisting principally of liquors.

THERE is not one box-elder tree in town that the worms have not destroyed the leaves.

In making some excavations on the side of the San Luis Obispo mountains, Mr. Camous discovered an ancient smelting furnace, the remains of the arches and smelting pots or crucibles, being quite abundant. The discovery, when taken in connection with the tradition, that the old missions of the coast had an abundance of crude silver, is thought quite significant.

A politician thinks of the next election; a statesman of the next generation; a politician looks for the success of his party; a statesman for that of his country. The statesman wishes to steer, the politician is satisfied to drift.—James Freeman Clarke.

It is said that a half-teaspoonful of common salt dissolved in a little cold water will instantly relieve "heartburn" or dyspepsia. Salt is also a good gargle for sore throat.

The last clean-up at the Manzanita hydraulic mine, at Sweetland, Cal., was $110,000. This represented a run of forty-one days.

The debt of New York is $92,725,465.40.

THE MANTI TEMPLE.

Brother W. H. Folsom, architect and general superintendent of the Manti Temple, is in town. We learn from him that the splendid structure will be roofed in this fall. The parapet will be ten feet, at the highest points, above the square of the roof, to which the walls are now up. The tower on the east end is now fourteen feet, and the west one six feet above the square of the building. At the corners of the east end there will be octagons and on the east, squares. The structure already has, in the eyes of all visitors, a very majestic appearance, its novel site adding to its grandeur.

There are now sixty hands employed on the building, besides about fifteen at the saw mill, at which lumber is cut. There is now on hand at the structure 500,000 feet of lumber.

The Temple will have a metal roof with copper gutters, and be finished off in the most excellent style in every respect.—[Desert News.]

A Louisianian says: The time will soon come when, in our damp climate, the floors in all the stores in New Orleans and in other cities in the State will be built of stone, water-proof and indestructible paper tiles. The dampness permeating our dwellings will be counteracted by paper material of a suitable character. All our city cars will be built of paper. The wheels of them will be made of paper. The rails of our street cars, and even the cross-ties, so liable to decay, will be renewed in the course of time, and be replaced by paper material, suitably treated to remedy existing evils. Nearly all the furniture of our dwellings, so liable to swell or shrink in our damp climate, will be manufactured in an elegant and artistic style by means of paper stock capable of resisting effectually the sudden changes of our temperature.

Jim Burge, a rather notorious character, was convicted in Truckee a few days ago of battery, and fined $25, with the alternative of working it out at the rate of $1 a day in the county jail. He chose the latter, and volunteered to deliver himself to the authorities at the county jail without assistance, further than the furnishing of a railroad ticket and money enough to pay expenses on the trip. Accordingly his commitment was given him and he left town on the overland train, in the double capacity of officer and prisoner. Upon arriving at Nevada City he put up at a hotel and remained over night, and next morning delivered his commitment to the Sheriff and was locked up. He will serve his time out and then present a bill to the county for mileage and officer's fees in serving the commitment.

The track of the Carson & Colorado railroad is now finished, and regular trains are running to Hawley, says the Walker Lake Bulletin. Depot buildings, turntables, water tanks and an engine house have been finished. Hawley is one of the most beautiful locations on the line of the railroad. It is situated on the eastern shore of Owens lake, in the center of splendid meadow lands. From this point can be seen some of the grandest scenery in the United States. The highest peaks of the Sierra Nevada are visible. Mount Whitney, about forty miles to the northwest, is in plain view, and is a spectacle worth a trip over the road.

At Pleasant Valley, Utah, Bishop Williams saw it to be his religious duty to supervise the late election in his precinct, and when he saw that his candidate for Constable had opposition he stationed himself at the polls, stopped each voter on coming up, opened his ticket, and saw that no votes for the opposition candidate got into the box after ten o'clock, when he first heard of the apostasy.

A man at Billings, M. T., proposes to erect a large green-house in which he will experiment upon the culture of pine-apples, bananas, oranges and other tropical fruits. He wants to verify the statements of the railroad company that this is, in fact, the banana belt.

The pine forests along the Adriatic at Ravenna, Italy, celebrated by Dante and Byron, and which furnished the shipyards of Rome and Venice, are to be cut down, because an excavation for a railroad has so drained the soil that the trees have died.

A Louisville woman has forced her daughter, thirteen years old, to marry a Chinaman with whom she carried on a laundry. The little girl ran away from home after the ceremony and the police refuse to make her return.

In tearing down an old house near Warm Springs, N. C., the skeleton of a mail-carrier has been found, with a leather mail-bag containing over thirty letters dated 1827, some containing old bank bills.

The Louisville Exposition is a failure in the matter of attendance. On the opening day it was about 15,000, but at no time since has it gone above 3,000.
